HISTORY

In March 1991, the company was acquired by American Financial Group, Inc. (AFG). In December 1995, the company changed its name to American Dynasty Surplus Lines Insurance Company. The company adopted its current name in June 2001. The direct parent of the company is the Great American Insurance Company (GAIC), itself ultimately owned by AFG. REINSURANCE

Great American Fidelity is a participant in an intercompany pooling agreement including twelve (12) affiliates, with its parent GAIC, pool lead retaining 100% of all pooled business. The company cedes 100% of its premiums to GAIC but does not receive a share of the pool's combined results. As a result of the pooling agreement, no values are reported for net premiums written or earned, underwriting income, and the various combined ratio trends. As such, the financial strength of the company, and all participants, is heavily dependent on the credit risk of GAIC/AFG, as well as investment risk of its own portfolio, managed in common by AFG. For the years 2020 through 2023, respectively, Great American Fidelity net reinsurance recoverable totaled $47M, $60M, $80M and $102M representing 96%, 119%, 159% and 196% of company surplus.
